Dear Sir:

My associate, Dr. T. C. Nelson has just shown me his correspondence with you concerning our request for a sample of Furadroxyl, NF-67. Judging from his previous experiments with this preparation, I have thought that it might be of considerable use in our research program.

I would appreciate your consideration in supplying us with perhaps five grams of NF-67, which should be enough for our proximate needs. If this compound is, or should become, available through commercial channels, please let me know.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
Associate Professor of Genetics
